In This Issue:

- Celebrate Financial Literacy Month, April 2014
- This car is going to cost me how much money???
- Gen R Revolution How-to Webinars Available
- Special Limited Time Offer on Learning, Earning and Investing for a New Generation
- Mark your calendar for CEE’s Annual Teacher Conference

Teaching Opportunity April 2014

April is Financial Literacy Month (FLM) and CEE continues to raise awareness for the importance of financial literacy education for K-12 teachers and students by providing events, teacher workshops, resources, free lessons and webinars for our educators.

- If you are interested in free workshops at your local CEE affiliated Counselor or Center, search by state icon.
- Look out for the great guest posts on the CEE blog. We will include perspectives from some of our nation’s most important financial, corporate, and political leaders on the need for and importance of financial and economic literacy.
- Be socially active (Please share, reblog, and link our FLM content month long via Twitter and Facebook). The official hashtag is #FLMMonth!

---

This car is going to cost me how much money??

Check out CEE’s new Car Shopper app to see what really costs to purchase a new car and finance it.

Teach students the cost/benefit analysis of how much your dream vehicle is going to cost as well as how to finance it. Students can pick from any of different options for a car and take the puts of financing in their region. When you get to the end there will be a breakdown of the vehicle you just bought, and give you prices of gas, insurance, etc. per month as well as your car payment. Explore the thousands of different vehicle combinations you can get with this FREE app available on Google Play.

---

Gen R Revolution How-to Webinars Available

There are two Gen R Revolution webinars available on demand for you to watch when time allows. They are only 30 minutes, but packed with a lot of great information, tools and tips.

- The Mini Games of Gen R Revolution
- Gen R Revolution Mission Brief – Mission 1
- Gen R Revolution Contest News

The Gen R Revolution Contest is underway and submissions are being accepted now through April 18, 2014. Your mission, if you choose to accept it, is to come up with the Sweet 16® Mission.

You can win up to $1,000 for your classroom! Check out all the details.

---

Special Limited Time Offer on Learning, Earning and Investing for a New Generation

In celebration of FLM and the Gen R Revolution Contest...Search for the Sweet 16® – CEE is offering extra savings on the Learning, Earning and Investing for a New Generation eBook Bundle!

Order the book bundle and save 40% on individual ebooks and print prices and save an additional 20% by using coupon code SWEET16® when checking out.

Enjoy the convenience of having a printed book on your desk and a pdf for reading on the go and save big.

This offer is valid on new orders only and expires April 30, 2014.

---

Mark your calendar for CEE’s Annual Teacher Conference

The 33rd Annual Financial Literacy and Economic Education Conference being held October 6-8, 2014 in Dallas, Texas. Early bird registration is available until September 12th. Registration will be available online until the day of the conference.

Take a look at last year’s videos and photos to see why this is a must-attend conference for K-12 teachers...

---

Financial Literacy Month, Car Shopper App, Webinars, and More

---

Financial Literacy Month

---

Gen R Revolution How-to Webinars Available

---

Special Limited Time Offer on Learning, Earning and Investing for a New Generation

---

Mark your calendar for CEE’s Annual Teacher Conference

---

 Visit online:

- About
- Resources
- Store
- News & Information

---

Follow Us

---

---

---

---